Dear Sir, Madam,

The Natural Health Product Research Society of Canada (NHPRS) wishes to officially acknowledge the very significant and continued support of ISURA to the activities of the Society.

ISURA is an outstanding organization. Indeed, it was instated as the only Canadian not-for-profit center for the evaluation and certification of natural health products (NHPs), raw foods and supplements with the aim to advocate for high quality and accountability in this important global sector. This remarkable posture resonates entirely with the mission of the Society, which is to promote scientifically rigorous research and education on NHPs, develop a national multi-sector research community, and support national research priorities that enable the informed and appropriate use of NHPs.

The NHPRS is proud and honored to work alongside with ISURA to help raise the bar in the NHP field and thus ensure that Canadian consumers have access to the best quality products to rely on for their health and wellbeing.

Sincerely,
